

Notification of weekend works – tower crane installation, Saturday 6 and Sunday 7 May 2023

To support ongoing construction of the new Sydney Children's Hospital Stage 1 and Minderoo Children's Comprehensive Cancer Centre, weekend site activities to install the first of two tower cranes were completed on the weekend of 1 and 2 April.

Works to install the second tower crane, which were previously communicated as occurring late April, have been rescheduled.

Installation activities will now occur between 5.30am and 9pm daily on Saturday 6 and Sunday 7 May, weather permitting.

The tower crane will arrive in separate pieces and will be installed using a mobile crane.

Construction vehicles and equipment will enter the site premises via the Botany Street construction gate and carry out all activities from within the construction site.

Some noise is likely as a result of these works.

For any questions or concerns about this work, please contact the project team via the details below.

Thank you for your patience while we work to deliver this exciting project.

Please note that all activity dates and times are subject to change.
